

"Hu...W-Wee-were am I?" Said Jeffst.

Jeffst was an ordinary boy but when this one day came, it changed his whole life, all his friends became popular and forgot him, his teacher bullied him and worst of all his parents died.

Here's how it all happened...It was a stormy night and blue clouds and there was a zombie green sky, yes not normal that's because he never lived in our planet {Earth} he lived in a mystical planet AD-79 the ground was blood shot red and of course it was a big threat to our planet if it came Earth as we know it would be decimated. You see it had a star it wasn't ordinary as our sun because it was 1,000,000,000,000X bigger than our sun, but it was 1000 lightyears away from us. Seems far but don't get me wrong but I think that's not very long well in space that is. Sadly it followed AD-79 and AD-79 was headed to our solar system "the home of Earth..." WE ARE DOOMED!!!!!!" Someone said because of NASA's curiosity they hacked the whole worlds television's and showed the whole world what was coming our way. This was Earth and again it was a bad time for them anyway because it was the year of doom 2020.

A new virus called 'corona' virus' caused by people eating bats. WHO WOULD DO SUCH A THNG? Now back to AD-79, now thanks to arrrgo atlats they also knew they were heading for planet Earth. They all went mad knowing it and as this happened they got closer and closer 999, 998,997,997 lightyears but there was an amazing advantage of them getting closer and closer ,and thanks to our human like technology and arrrgo atlas 'old technology' because they were 100 years past planet Earth they found a way of communicating . they call it "VISUAL COMS TECHO" it was mostly our idea ,umm I mean NASA's idea of the name mostly confusing but we have to get back to the story,another 996,995,994 light years away people went calm but still screaming and shouted "OMG WERE DOOMED HELP. US PLEASE!!!!" and so they started they were lucky because some how they spoke exactly the same language so they didn't have to do any translating.

They tried to find a way to stop their planet from coming to ours and the solar system ~~them~~. They came up with a laser that would destroy the sun but no because that would destroy their planet too and then it hit them it's the only way they had to destroy AD-79 but first they had to build ships on AD-79 otherwise they would all die.so they all got to work , Earth built the laser and AD-79 built the space shuttles now we were 993 992 991,990 lightyears away...then it hit them they knew it would take them a while so they started on a fast pace maker the person that created everything onAD-79 was known other than Jeffst he had a weird name. Coincidentally they worked in SECTOR 89. Let's speed up to 100 lighters away from our solar system they started to start the laser and the others started the shuttle.

BANGG!!!

Everything blew up and destroyed which that leaves us to the start of the story. And they had a good life in Earth ...now he was popular, the saver.
