In the foggy morning zain was going to his school when he saw something unusual. There were a lot more cars in the car parking than usual but zain didn't care when he was going through the school gate he saw a gun bullet which had blood on it. Zain quickly rushed in through the school building and shouted "BLOOD". Every teacher that heard it came including the Head teacher everyone started to ask him questions "where where is the blood" zain led the teachers to the place everyone was shocked. Suddenly, these people were pointing guns at the teachers but they didn't see zain so zain hidden under a bench. Zain ran to the nearest police stations and told them about everything as soon as they reached the school, they heard everyone's screams "AHHHH". They emerged towards the school doors, but all the doors were locked. The police told zain "we can break the door but it's going to be loud" zain quickly replied "NO THERE'S A SECRET ENTRANCE FOLLOW ME". As they approached the door where the terrorist was, they heard "DON'T MOVE OTHERWISE I'LL KILL YOU". The police quickly and silently opened the door and pointed the guns at the terrorist and told them to surrender. In less than a second every window broke in the room and more terrorists came and pointed guns at everyone. Zain ran fast like an action of bolt and bullets chasing him he quickly exited the building and saw a guy who was giving commands. Zain thought to himself IS THIS THE LEADER. The guys Bluetooth disconnected and from the phones speaker someone's voice came out "what should do we know" zain knew it was the leader and in the corner of Zain's eye he saw a AK47 he pulled the trigger and pointed at the leader and zain told him to move forward and zain made him go to the room where everyone was. Zain told "every terrorist to drop their guns otherwise he would kill him" and the leader said as well and the police arrested everyone because of zain and zain got an award.
